Dear colleagues,

Due to a series of unfortunate circumstances, the Archaeological Museum of Istria was unable to publish the Proceedings of the 12th International Colloquium on Roman Provincial Art in the agreed time of 2 years. In order to be able to publish the Proceedings in the shortest time possible, the Museum has taken necessary steps and suggested appointing a new editor. This decision was supported by the Scientific Committee of the Colloquium. Given the fact that we have to start anew with the editing of the Proceedings, we also have to recollect all the scientific papers necessary for printing. Therefore we kindly ask you to send us all your texts (preferably the latest version) via email and also a copy of it on CD, so that we can prepare the Proceedings for publication. Once the papers are ready for printing, we will send you the first and the second proofreading of the texts.

The predicted date for the printing of the Proceedings is 31st March 2014.

The deadline for submitting the papers is September 30th 2013.
